Volunteers for Town's boards and commissions sought Applications due by Thursday, Aug. 5

PROSPER (July 12, 2021) The Prosper Town Council is sounding the call for residents to volunteer for open seats on the Town's boards and commissions, as 19 positions among the five boards and commissions are opening.

"A highly impactful way that citizens can participate in the community's decision-making process is by serving on boards and commissions," says Robyn Battle, Executive Director of Community Services. "Each year, the Council encourages all eligible citizens to step forward and consider serving."

Applications are being accepted until Thursday, Aug. 5. Boards and commissions advise the Town Council on policy development and administration of services. Appointments are made each year by the Town Council as members' terms expire or as vacancies occur.

To be considered for an open position on the various Town boards and commissions, individuals must fill out an online application form and be willing to attend regularly-scheduled meetings; must agree to serve a full term; and meet certain eligibility requirements. Applicants must be residents of the Town or its Extraterritorial Jurisdiction and must have been so for at least one year at the time of application. Only registered voters are eligible to apply.

"Applicants may be asked to undergo a brief interview with the Town Council to gauge their suitability for specific positions," said Battle.

Applications may be obtained electronically at www.prospertx.gov on the Boards and Commissions page under the Government tab. Applications will be reviewed and all applicants, including incumbents, will be considered for an interview. Among the boards and commissions seeking members are:
